IIM Trichy signs MoU with financial analysis platform

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Trichy: Indian Institute of Management, Trichy, has signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with TradingView, a global charting and financial-market analysis platform, to strengthen experiential learning and market-oriented education for students. IIM Trichy said the collaboration was aimed at integrating industry-relevant technologies into management education and equipping students with practical skills. The students will get access to TradingView's advanced charting, screening, technical analysis, and market-monitoring tools.

"The collaboration reflects our commitment to providing our students with contemporary, practice-oriented learning opportunities. Access to TradingView will enable students to analyse financial markets and apply theoretical concepts in a real-world setting," P Saravanan, professor of finance, said.

The Indian Institute of Management-Tiruchi (IIM-T) has signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with TradingView, a leading global charting and financial-market analysis platform, to strengthen experiential learning and market-oriented education for its students.

The collaboration would enable students to analyse financial markets more effectively and apply theoretical concepts in a real-world setting, said P. Saravanan, IIM-T professor of Finance. "This partnership will help students build familiarity with market-analysis tools and strengthen students' confidence in interpreting financial information," said Vishal Soni, growth manager (India), TradingView.

As finance increasingly relies on data, technology, and informed analysis, initiatives such as this enable students to build capabilities that are relevant to contemporary industry practices and future career opportunities, according to an official press release.
